Your Right to Know

Professional Qualifications of Teachers and Paraeducators

Parents of children attending Title I, Part A schools have the right to request and receive information about the qualifications of the teacher and paraprofessionals who provide instruction to students.

Teacher Qualifications

For teachers, at a minimum, the information given to you must explain these three essential components of an educator's qualifications.

- Has met state qualification and licensing criteria for the grade levels and subject areas in which the teacher provides instruction
- Is teaching under emergency or other provisional status through which state qualification or licensing criteria have been waived
- Is teaching in the field of discipline of the certification of the teacher

Paraeducator Qualifications

In the Title I, Part A program, paraprofessionals must work under the supervision of a certified teacher. In schools that operate a Schoolwide program, all paraeducators must meet professional qualifications. In a Targeted Assistance program, any paraeducator who is under the direct supervision of a certificated teacher must meet professional qualifications.

To meet Title I, Part A program requirements, paraeducators must have a high school diploma or GED and must have:

- Completed at least two years of study at an institution of higher education; or
- Obtained an associate's or higher degree; or
- Passed the ETS ParaPro Assessment. The assessment measures skills and content knowledge related to reading, writing and math; or
- Previously completed the apprenticeship requirements, and must present a journey card or certificate. The portfolio and apprenticeships are no longer offered for enrollment; however, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) will continue to honor this pathway.

Notification If the Child’s Teacher Has Limited WA State Certification/Licensure Requirements

Parents must receive a timely notice that their child has been assigned, or has been taught for more than four consecutive weeks by a teacher who has limited state certification/licensure. Learn more about teacher and instructional paraprofessional requirements online at:

Professional Educational Standards Board (PESB) www.pesb.wa.gov or Title II, Part A–Teacher and Principal Quality: www.k12.wa.us/TitleIIA

Information on State and Local Assessments

Parents must receive information on each assessment required by the state and district. This information must include:

1. Subject matter assessed
2. Purpose of the assessment
3. Source of the requirement

If information is available, LEAs and schools must provide (including posting on their websites):

1. Length of time expected and schedule for the assessments
2. Time and format for disseminating results

Information on State or LEA Policy–Student Participation on Assessments

At the beginning of each school year, the LEA must notify parents that they may request (and the LEA will provide) information regarding any state or LEA policy regarding student participation in any assessments mandated by Section 1111(b)(2), and by the state or LEA. The information must include a policy, procedure, or parental right to opt the child out of such assessment, where applicable. [ESSA Section 1112 (e)(2)(A)]

Why is State Testing Required?

School districts and communities are different across the state. Families have the right to know how their child is progressing toward college and career readiness. Districts need to know if the curriculum they have chosen to teach their students to meet the state learning standards is working, or if they should make adjustments.

State testing is required by state law (RCW 28A.230.095) and federal law (Elementary and Secondary Education Act). Learn more about why testing is required at Assessment’s Frequently Asked Question Website: www.k12.wa.us/assessment/StateTesting/FAQ.aspx
