MIXED LEVEL YOGA

This yoga class is designed for students who are just starting out to those with an intermediate level of experience. The class will combine the fundamentals of the yoga poses while developing muscular tone following the Hatha style [slower, controlled movements, deep stretching] along with the inclusion of Vinyasa-style yoga [flow-inspired, stringing poses together in a sequence while connecting the movement to the breath]. There will be instruction on breathing techniques, mindfulness practices and time in each session for meditation and relaxation. Occasionally we will include sound healing as a part of the practice. This class is an opportunity to treat your body and soul to an intentional practice of self-care and to unwind from daily stressors. Students should bring an open mind and spirit, a sticky yoga mat and a blanket for final relaxation. It is also suggested to bring an eye mask or something to put over your eyes during final relaxation in the event the lights can not be dimmed for final relaxation. If students know they like to use blocks or straps, please bring. Class is limited to 15.

Trusts and Wills 101

This presentation will provide the attendee an understanding of the basics of Trusts and Wills. A will is a legal document that dictates how you wish all the assets in your estate to be distributed to your beneficiaries after you are gone. When you properly create a will, it prevents your estate from going to probate court. Avoiding probate will save your family time, money, and emotional distress when settling your estate. We will also clarify the diverse types and purposes of trusts: Revocable vs. Irrevocable Trusts; Simple vs. Complex Trusts; and Inter Vivos Vs. Testamentary Trusts. Mr. Fatoullah will explain Medicaid Asset Protection Trusts, Life Insurance Trusts, Special Needs Trusts, Spendthrift Trusts, and Trusts to Reduce Estate Taxes.

Ronald Fatoullah is principal and founder of Ronald Fatoullah & Associates, perennially recognized as one of New York's top elder law firms. Ron lectures frequently on aging, elder law, and estate planning; has appeared on numerous radio and television programs; and has been quoted in The New York Times, Newsday, The Wall Street Journal, the New York Law Journal, and Kiplinger's. He has been honored by many organizations for his achievements and contributions to the senior community.

Elder Law 101- Legal and Financial Planning for the Future

There are legal considerations for every stage in life. The practice of elder law focuses on the legal challenges, asset preservation and planning long-term care for those individuals who are of 50 years of age and older. Elder law encompasses many legal areas including Trusts & Wills, Medicaid Planning & Applications, Asset Protection, Probate & Administration, Estate Planning, Guardianships, Estate & Guardianship Litigation, Powers of Attorney & Advance Directives and Tax Planning. There are special issues that affect the aging population. The purpose of elder law planning is to prepare the elderly person for financial freedom and autonomy through proper financial planning and long-term care options. Do not wait for illness or disability to plan for possible long-term health care.
