Happy New Year Team NBPS!

I hope everyone enjoyed the holiday break with family and friends and had an opportunity to rest and recharge for a great New Year.

As we begin 2022 and the spring semester, we have much to accomplish. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 virus and its variants remains a concern and at the forefront of our work. As we navigate this unprecedented third year of COVID, despite the weariness we are all experiencing, we should be confident that we will continue to address these challenges with the knowledge gained from what we have learned these last two years along with tools and strategies including proper mask wearing, hand washing, and Test and Stay that are constantly improving.

Based on CDC reports, the positivity rates are expected to continue to rise in the next few weeks. Thereafter, the situation will hopefully begin to improve. With ongoing vigilance and presence of mind, we will get through this together while we continue to focus on excellent teaching and learning.

With hope and optimism, the New Year beckons us to achieve our goals by creating an environment that fosters intellectual capacity – both physical and academic – one which will nurture the social and emotional well-being of all our students.

We look forward to upgrading technology and providing more professional development opportunities in both instructional and leadership areas. This will enable our NBPS team to build upon and expand ways to help students reach their maximum potential to succeed and staff to grow more confident and empowered as we support our students.

We are living in a time of tremendous challenge, but if we connect with another there are no limits to what our students and staff can achieve. If we continue to work together sharing what we know, successes and challenges, and collaborating as a team, NBPS will thrive.

Thank you for your compassion, commitment and dedication to the success of our students. Let us show kindness and compassion toward each other in our efforts to help them to continue to be great learners and good people.

Sincerely,

Thomas Anderson
Superintendent

Ray Jackson
Special Education Tutor
Congdon Elementary School

“Ray Jackson, a Special Education Tutor for Grades 3-5 at the Congdon Elementary School, has a strong belief that ALL students can achieve at high levels and works hard with every student to help them believe in themselves! In 2019, Mr. Jackson’s students with disabilities subgroup scored in the 97th percentile in the state MCAS. He is a big part of Congdon Elementary School becoming a National Blue Ribbon School. His biggest claim to fame are his skills at recess, especially his expertise at “Doctor Dodgeball.” Mr. Jackson brings a smile or a laugh to everyone in the school community. Whether he’s working with colleagues, students, families, or other staff, Mr. Jackson makes everyone feel happy and supported.”

Yolanda Fields

“Yolanda Fields, Cafeteria Worker, has been a staple in the A. J. Gomes Elementary School cafeteria for years. She manages and oversees all cafeteria functions. Ms. Fields prepares and serves the food. She makes sure the cafeteria is spotless before and after all lunch shifts and prepared for the next day. Ms. Fields always has a smile to share with the children as well as faculty and staff. She also performs her job with grace and professionalism and takes pride in her work each and every day. She is a joy to work with and a tremendous asset to the Alfred J. Gomes Elementary School food service team.”

FOOD & NUTRITION SERVICES UPDATE

NBPS Food and Nutrition Services Awarded “No Kid Hungry” Grant

In partnership with the Marion Institute, NBPS Food and Nutrition Services has been granted funds through the No Kid Hungry organization for school year 2021—2022!

We plan to use the grant funds to host four community meetings throughout the winter and early spring at the following elementary schools:

Gomes, Hayden McFadden, Carney and Pulaski Schools

The goal for the meetings is to gather feedback from students and their families on recommendations for new, culturally-relevant menu items and community recipes. Next we will host celebratory, outdoor community dinners preparing and serving these recipes for students and their families! Any feedback will be collected and considered before serving the recipes district-wide on our regular school lunch menus.

Also, community dinners will take place in mid-late spring at the following elementary schools:

Jacobs, Hayden McFadden, Brooks, Pulaski
